

JOANN NOCERA

EDUCATIONAL EXPERT & AUTHOR

ABOUT

JoAnn Nocera is an author and school administrator with over two decades of experience helping children and families integrate arts into lessons and school activities by unlocking their creativity.

Nocera has changed the culture of school and home life to help those find success academically and emotionally

Find out about how placing a Parent Academy in your school can make a difference..

BIO

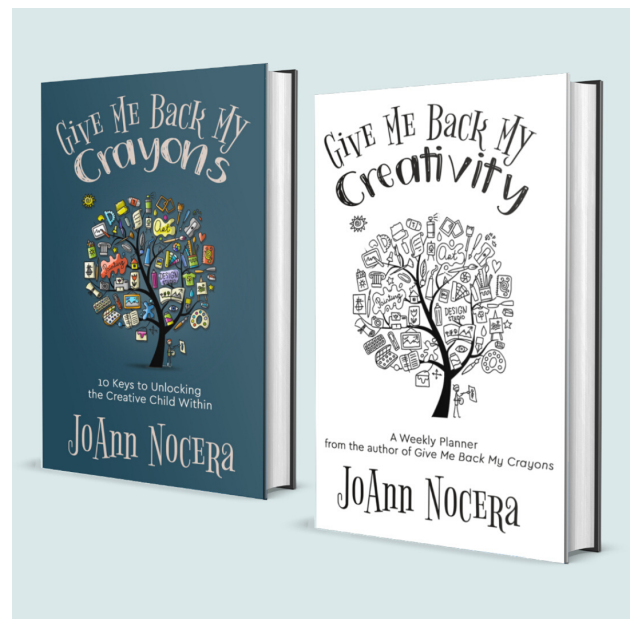

JoAnn Nocera is an Educational Expert, school administrator and Author with over two decades of experience helping children reach their highest learning potential and teaching parents strategies to greater assist in the process.

Nocera has changed the culture of school and home life to help those find success academically and emotionally. She has spent years researching and developing techniques in the areas of reading, math, science, differentiated instruction, time management, social emotional learning and has proven successful in helping students in all facets of education.

She has worked with The Geraldine Dodge Foundation, MindPop, Mind-Aligned, and the Grunin Foundation as well as corporate partnerships with Toys R Us, Ocean First, and Home Depot.

Nocera holds multiple certifications in Elementary and Middle School Teaching, Principal and Supervisor administration licenses and has been featured in WeAreTeachers.com, WebTalkRadio and other national outlets within the industry.

www.JoAnnNocera.com

JOANN NOCERA

EDUCATIONAL EXPERT & AUTHOR

TOPICS

- Virtual Learning
- Understanding How Your Child Learns
- Social Emotional Learning & the Arts
- Intervention Strategies to Help Struggling Learners
- Arts Integration
- Differentiation of Instruction

TESTIMONIALS

"JoAnn has her finger on the pulse of today's digitally saturated youth and she's doing something about it. In Give Me Back My Crayons, JoAnn provides the tools to help your child escape from the world of passive "screen thought" and instead help them tap into their natural resource - creative thought! This is a must read for every parent."

Tom Kersting, Best-Selling author of Disconnected

"JoAnn approaches life and her life's work - education - with a passion and positivity that is infectious and which is echoed in the hallways of her school building. Having worked with her on several initiatives, I know her to be innovative and open-minded, someone whose dedication to art-infused education has fostered a learning environment that is inclusive, experiential, collaborative, and which generates positive results. JoAnn is proof that joy is not superfluous to a quality education, but integral."

Mike Kenny, Toms River Regional Schools